

Citizens Advice Wandsworth safeguarding adults policy

Date Issued:	July 2024
Governance Forum responsible:	Trustee Board
Document history:	Modified from national template
Review date of policy:	July 2025
Review frequency:	Annual

How should the policy be used?

This policy must be followed by all staff and volunteers, including senior managers and trustees. It also applies to anyone working on behalf of our organisation.

This policy focuses on safeguarding concerns about adults that stem from interactions with clients and other people who access our service; however the legal duties and principles outlined in this document apply to people who aren't our clients. For example our staff, volunteers, beneficiaries or other connections who meet the definition of adults at risk.

There is a separate policy for safeguarding children and both policies should be read in conjunction with our safeguarding procedure.

No one should ignore allegations or suspicions of abuse or neglect.

Why do we have a policy?

We have a policy to:

- stop abuse and neglect where possible
- prevent harm and reduce the risk of abuse and neglect
- provide staff and volunteers with overarching principles that guide our approach to safeguarding.

It's important we have a policy because we provide services to a range of adults and we may suspect or be told about current or historic abuse or neglect. Our safeguarding guidelines and procedures will ensure that staff and volunteers are able to deal appropriately with these situations. This will include:

- having sound recruitment practices
- ensuring all staff and volunteers have an understanding and awareness of adult safeguarding
- ensuring all staff and volunteers know how to raise safeguarding concerns and feel confident doing so.

What do we mean by safeguarding?

'Safeguarding' typically relates to children (defined as individuals under 18) and adults at risk (also known as vulnerable adults), for which specific legislation and regulatory requirements apply.

Our regulator, the Charity Commission, considers safeguarding to be taking reasonable steps to protect people from abuse or harm that we come into contact with, whether working online or in person.

Our legal and membership duties

It is a requirement of Citizens Advice membership that we act within the relevant laws and regulations to safeguard people who come into contact with our service from harm and abuse.

Protecting people and safeguarding responsibilities are a governance priority for our organisation. It is a fundamental part of how we operate as a charity for the public benefit. Safeguarding is the responsibility of everyone at our organisation.

The legislation covering safeguarding is the Care Act 2014 (England) and the Social Services and Wellbeing (Wales) Act 2014. These acts put duties on local authorities in relation to adult safeguarding and while they don't apply to us directly as a charity, we acknowledge Citizens Advice may receive their funding or are contracted to deliver services on their behalf and therefore it's essential that we understand our role in protecting adults at risk.

We will take these duties into account in our work with people who come into contact with our service and support the local authorities to fulfil their statutory duties where possible.

They include:

- stopping abuse or neglect wherever possible
- preventing harm and reducing the risk of abuse or neglect to adults with care and support needs
- safeguarding adults in a way that supports them in making choices and having control about how they want to live
- promoting an approach that concentrates on improving life for the adults concerned
- raising public awareness so that communities as a whole, alongside professionals, play their part in preventing, identifying and responding to abuse and neglect
- providing information and support in accessible ways to help people understand the different types of abuse, how to stay safe and what to do to raise a concern about the safety or wellbeing of an adult
- addressing what has caused the abuse or neglect.

Principles for guiding our safeguarding activities

We will use these principles to guide our safeguarding activities. They are also used by local authorities and other statutory bodies to direct their adult safeguarding activities:

- empowerment: actions or decisions must be based on the presumption of person-led decisions and informed consent
- prevention: it is better to take action before harm occurs
- proportionality: the least intrusive response appropriate to the risk presented
- protection: support and representation for those in greatest need
- partnerships: local solutions through services working with their communities
- accountability: accountability and transparency in delivering safeguarding

Fundamental to this policy is our aim to involve the person the concern is about in decisions about what should happen wherever possible.

Who is protected by this policy?

We recognise that many policies and organisations refer to 'adults at risk' or 'vulnerable adults'. This policy adopts the definition outlined in the Care Act 2014 and the Social Services and Wellbeing (Wales) Act 2014. These definitions are outlined below and we acknowledge many of our service users could meet this definition.

Definition of 'adult at risk' is met if we have reasonable cause to suspect that someone over the age of 18:

- has care and support needs, and
- is experiencing, or is at risk of, abuse or neglect, and
- is unable to protect themselves because of their care and support needs

Note that concerns about those under the age of 18 should be reviewed under our separate child safeguarding policy.

An adult with care and support needs may be:

- an older person
- a person with a physical disability, a learning difficulty or a sensory impairment
- someone with mental health needs, including dementia or a personality disorder
- a person with a long-term health condition
- someone who misuses substances or alcohol to the extent that it affects their ability to manage day-to-day living

We will apply this policy equally to all adults who come into contact with our services regardless of age, race, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership status, pregnancy and maternity, religion and belief, sex and sexual orientation.

Clients may come into contact with our service through different channels that aren't always face to face, for example, email, web chat or phone. The principles of safeguarding outlined in this policy will be applied consistently to all safeguarding concerns across the various channels through which we operate our service.

Principles for guiding our safeguarding activities

The Care Act 2014 sets out the following 6 principles that should underpin the safeguarding of adults. We'll follow these principles to guide our safeguarding activities and acknowledge that they're also used by local authorities and other statutory bodies to direct their adult safeguarding activities:

- empowerment - actions or decisions should be based on the presumption of person-led decisions and informed consent
- prevention - it is better to take action before harm occurs
- proportionality - the least intrusive response appropriate to the risk presented
- protection - support and representation for those in greatest need
- partnerships - local solutions through services working with their communities
- accountability - accountability and transparency in delivering safeguarding

In accordance with the principle of empowerment, fundamental to this policy is our commitment, wherever possible, to explore the thoughts and wishes of the person we're concerned about.

Recognising the different types of abuse and risk

The indicators provided below are not an exhaustive list of signs and symptoms of someone suffering abuse and neglect.

Type of abuse	Indicators of abuse
Physical	Physical abuse is when someone hurts or harms an individual on purpose. It includes: hitting with hands or objects, slapping and punching, kicking, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning and scalding, biting and scratching, breaking bones and drowning.
Domestic	An incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening, degrading and violent behaviour, including sexual violence, in the majority of cases by a partner or ex-partner, but also by a family member or carer.

Sexual	This type of abuse includes rape, any inappropriate touching, indecent exposure, sexual acts to which the adult has not consented or lacks the capacity to consent, sexual photography or forced use of pornography or the witnessing of sexual acts.
Female genital mutilation (FGM)	FGM is when a female's genitals are deliberately altered or removed for non-medical reasons. It's also known as 'female circumcision' or 'cutting', but has many other names.
Psychological/ emotional	This type of abuse includes emotional abuse, threats of harm or abandonment, deprivation of contact, humiliation, blaming, controlling, intimidation, coercion, harassment, verbal abuse, cyber bullying, isolation or unreasonable and unjustified withdrawal of services or supportive networks.
Online	Online abuse is any type of abuse that happens on the internet. It can happen across any device that's connected to the web, like computers, tablets and mobile phones. And it can happen anywhere online, including social media, text messages and messaging apps, emails, online chats, online gaming and live-streaming sites.
Financial/ material	This type of abuse can involve theft, fraud, internet scamming, coercion in relation to an adult's financial affairs or arrangements, including in connection with wills, property, inheritance or financial transactions, or the misuse or misappropriation of property, possessions or benefits
Modern slavery: This type of abuse encompasses slavery, human trafficking, forced labour and domestic servitude Note that if modern slavery is suspected we may also use the	These could include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • signs of physical or emotional abuse • appearing to be malnourished, unkempt or withdrawn • isolation from the community, seeming under the control or influence of others • living in dirty, cramped or overcrowded accommodation and/or living and working at

National Referral Mechanism as well as going through our safeguarding referral process	the same address <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • lack of personal effects or identification documents • always wearing the same clothes • avoidance of eye contact, appearing frightened or hesitant to talk to strangers.
Discriminatory abuse	Including forms of harassment, slurs or similar treatment because of age, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, disability, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity or other type of protected characteristic.
Organisational/ institution	Can occur in various settings such as a hospital, school or care home. This type of abuse can be one-off incidents as well as ongoing patterns of abuse.
Neglect/ acts of omission	Including ignoring medical, emotional or physical care needs, failure to provide access to appropriate health, care and support or educational services, the withholding of the necessities of life, such as medication, adequate nutrition and heating.
Criminal exploitation and gangs	Criminal exploitation abuse where vulnerable adults are manipulated and coerced into committing crimes.
Self neglect	This covers a wide range of behaviour that is neglecting to care for one's personal hygiene, health or surroundings and includes behaviour such as hoarding. In addition to self neglect examples above you should take note of self-harming (cutting) or someone mentioning suicide. It could be a sign someone is experiencing another form of abuse or that they need mental health support.
Suicide and self-harm Although not listed in the Care Act, we recognise that suicide and self-harm are forms of risk that can give rise to a safeguarding concern	These could include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a history of depression, anxiety, bipolar disorder, PTSD or other mental health conditions • previous suicide attempts • previous self-harm • recent trauma or life crisis

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• feelings of hopelessness or worthlessness• withdrawing from other people• changes in appearance and behaviour• dangerous or self-harmful behaviour e.g. substance abuse• talking about death or wanting to die, talking about methods of suicide• making preparations e.g. putting affairs in order, giving away possessions, saying goodbye to friends and family• gathering materials that could be used to commit suicide.
--	---

Radicalisation and safeguarding

If we are concerned about an adult at risk becoming radicalised, we follow our safeguarding procedure, but also take into account the statutory guidance of the 'Prevent Strategy'. We acknowledge our responsibility under this guidance 'to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism'.

Our staff and volunteers will be mindful of radicalisation and report any concerns using our safeguarding adult and children policies.

Confidentiality and safeguarding

Confidentiality is one of the founding principles of Citizens Advice. It is important that our clients can trust us and know that the information they disclose is treated in confidence.

However, if we have suspicions or information has been disclosed in relation to abuse, we have a responsibility to take action. Our principles do not override the need to protect adults at risk from abuse.

In accordance with the principle of empowerment, the thoughts and wishes of the person we're concerned about should be explored to inform our decision on whether to report a safeguarding concern and where possible their permission should be gained to report the concern.

However, there will be situations when confidentiality between ourselves and the client cannot be maintained. This includes situations where the person we're concerned about is in serious and immediate danger and there's no time to get permission, it's not possible to get permission or the person is not able to give permission (abuser is always present). Also we would not try to get permission if there's a chance it would put the person we're concerned about in more danger.

In these situations the wellbeing of the client or others who may be at risk takes precedence over our principle of confidentiality. Our safeguarding procedure details the process for making a data disclosure and raising a safeguarding concern.

Mental capacity and safeguarding

We'll assume that adults have the mental capacity to make informed decisions about their own safety and how they live their lives. The Mental Capacity Act 2005 is central to decisions and actions in safeguarding adults.

Where a person is able to make an informed choice in relation to a particular decision, they have a right to self-determination and we will explore their thoughts and wishes about what help they may or may not want.

In practice, it may come to light that an adult at risk does not have capacity to make informed decisions about their own situation. One way this could occur is if an adult at risk's carer has a registered lasting power of attorney for one or more of the adult at risk's affairs. If there is reason to believe that the adult at risk is being abused, has been abused in the past, neglected or exploited by the person they attended with, it will be difficult to have a conversation with the adult at risk alone. If getting permission to report a safeguarding concern puts a person in greater danger then steps can be taken without getting permission using the safeguarding procedure. In these circumstances it is important to include the reason why permission was not asked for on the safeguarding concern form.

If it is not clear if an adult has the capacity to make an informed decision, staff and volunteers should talk to the safeguarding lead and use the safeguarding procedure.

Factors which will be relevant in determining whether a safeguarding concern should be reported about a person who lacks capacity to make the decision themselves are if the person can't:

- understand information about the decision to be made on whether or not to report a concern because of a safeguarding reason, or
- retain that information in their minds, or
- use or weigh up that information as part of the decision making process, or
- communicate their decision (by talking, using sign language or other means).

Screening of staff and volunteers

We ensure that all staff and volunteers who work in roles which are legally entitled to get a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check are screened, we will also ask for appropriate references as part of our screening process and reserve the right to await the results of DBS checks and references before allowing an person to start in that role. If a role is not entitled to a standard or enhanced check, our chief officer may choose to ask some staff or volunteers to undergo a basic check.

As an organisational policy, if a DBS check reveals an unspent conviction for a sexual offence against a child or vulnerable adult, the individual won't be taken on. We also won't take on anyone who performs a regulated activity as part of their role if they're barred from working with adults or children. Any other convictions will be considered on an individual basis.

Further information can be found in our DBS and ex-offenders policies.

Supervision, training and safeguarding

Thorough induction training will be provided to ensure that staff and volunteers are aware of good safeguarding practice alongside the service's core values and confidentiality.

Staff and volunteers will be given regular supervision and have their training needs assessed.

Regular case checking will take place and any unusual or excessive contact with an adult at risk will be investigated.

Appropriate safeguarding training is available to all staff and volunteers. This may be in the form of:

- online learning provided by national Citizens Advice
- policy awareness sessions delivered internally
- briefing sessions by a local authority or other relevant authority
- attendance at training arranged through partner agencies.

If a staff member or volunteer is removed from their role

If a staff member or volunteer is moved or dismissed from their role because of safeguarding concerns arising from their actions or inactions we have a responsibility as a regulated activity provider to inform the Disclosure and Barring Service. We will follow the guidance set out by the Disclosure and Barring service in these situations.

Developing new services

Any new services in development will take account of the need to safeguard adults at risk. This may be achieved by:

- risk assessment of proposed activities
- agreeing safeguarding measures with partner organisations including information sharing protocols
- seeking specialist advice, for example from the local safeguarding board.

Working with local statutory agencies

Safeguarding Boards may carry out reviews or investigations and may require us to supply information. The boards are made up of representatives from local authorities and other statutory bodies and partner agencies.

We will supply information requested by a safeguarding board under the following circumstances:

- the information must be requested for the purpose of enabling the board to perform its functions
- the person or body requested to supply the information must have functions or engage in activities such that the board considers it likely to have information relevant to a function of the board.

In general, there is no bar to us taking part in a safeguarding review, a criminal investigation or a Serious Case Review if required to. This is in the context of our policy on client confidentiality, and the confidentiality process will be used.

Working with local authority commissioners

Commissioners at local authority level sometimes want to see their own safeguarding protocols reflected in the local Citizens Advice policy. Some key actions we will consider taking are:

- before commissioning, ensuring that we are aware of the local authority designated safeguarding lead and the functions of their team, and the local Safeguarding Adults Board (England) or area-based Safeguarding Board (Wales)
- where possible before commissioning, participating in local authority safeguarding training or briefings
- before commissioning or early in commissioning, reviewing local authority safeguarding protocols to make sure our policy reflects local arrangements
- if local authority policies appear to be in conflict with Citizens Advice policies or principles, contacting our Relationship Manager to discuss ways forward.